

LATEST NEWS.—Bristow has written a letter to the Chairman of the Committee on Expenditures in the Department of Justice, denying, and demanding an investigation of the charges made, that for a large consideration of money, he resigned his position of United States Attorney for Kentucky, and became counsel for the distillers whose property had been seized for violation of law, and procured the release of that property. . . . Belknap denied that Congress had the right to bring him up on an impeachment trial, the House has filed a reply to his plea, and given Belknap till next Monday to file his answer. . . . The Democrats of Indiana, held a Convention and nominated Jas. D. Williams, for Governor, and Isaac P. Gray, for Lieutenant Governor. Hendricks was warmly recommended as a nominee for President. They also declared against a contraction of the currency, and for a gradual retirement of National Bank notes, and circulating notes issued by the Government, substituted in their stead. . . . Mortana instructs for Blaine. . . $35,000 in Silver, was disbursed at the Treasury yesterday. . . . The Mississippi has broken through the levees at several points, and is destroying the prospects for a large cotton crop in the South.

The Lebanon Standard of Wednesday, gives an account of a man named Thos. Moore, of Casey county, 4 miles from Hustonville, attempting to kill his wife. Moore had suspected her of being untrue to him, and a separation took place; they remaining separated for several weeks. Moore finally returned to her, having been convinced that his suspicions were unfounded—but after a few days he again became enraged, and putting a pistol to her breast, attempted to force a confession of her guilt from her. Alarmed by his actions, she acknowledged her guilt, when Moore fired, the ball taking effect in her arm just above the elbow. He then left the place, but returned, and seeing through the window that she was not yet dead, he fired a second shot, which struck Dr. Flannagan, who had been summoned to dress the wound, in the groin, inflicting a painful wound. Moore is still at large. The Sheriff with a posse followed him several days without success.

STANT still has hopes of a third term. He vetoed the bill passed by Congress reducing the President's salary after next March, to $25,000. The reasons assigned, are, that it would be injustice to his successor, that the cost of living has been greatly augmented at Washington, by the war, and that the President's salary has not kept pace with that of a Congressman, for at the time that the salary was fixed at $25,000 Congressmen only got $6 per day, now they receive $30 per day, for each day of actual service. Well, he could not have signed the bill and been consistent, and as the Cincinnati Enquirer suggests, he did not want to go down in history as a National Hog.

The Cincinnati Enquirer, one of the leading Democratic papers of this country, gave evidence of a merited prosperity on the first of the month, by enlarging from a 48 to a 56 column. It appeared in an entire new dress also, and now presents the handsomest appearance of any daily within our knowledge. The issue of last Sunday, had a supplement of 14 pages, making in all, 70 columns of matter! It supports the cause of the poor man, and advocates Bill Allen, for President.

This cold weather we have had the past few days, must have been caused by the immense snow storms over the ocean, which are said to have been the deepest and fiercest ever known. The ice in the Straits, is not yet broken up, and navigation will not be resumed until the middle of next month. Every thing planted, lies in a dormant state during such weather as we have had for the first days of the present week.

This county of Washington will hold a Convention next Monday, to appoint delegates to Danville. This will close the campaign so far as the Democratic party nomination is concerned, as their action will settle the question; virtually, as to who will receive it. The future battle for the Judgeship will then come off between the nominee and some Republican aspirant, who will run independently.

On the 1st day of June next, 84 years ago, Kentucky was admitted into the Union as a State. On the 17th day of August next, 75 years ago, the first Constitution of Kentucky was adopted. What wonderful changes have been made since then? From a small colony of hardy pioneers, the State has risen to a high place in the list of States, and still the watchword is, onward and upward.

The man McGuire, who was convicted at St. Louis, of a fraud upon the Revenue, and sentenced to six months in the Penitentiary, and to pay a fine of $5,000—is likely to receive a pardon from his head centre, the President. At any rate, there is a petition, numerously signed, to effect such an outrage on justice.

The Courier-Journal can score one against us. At the time we wrote the advice to the Louisville people with regard to the divorce business, we had not examined our Circuit Court Docket to see that we were as deep in the mud as Louisville is in the mire. Neither did we notice our gap left down until the paper had gone to press.

Wonder what the Cincinnati think of the last financial job of the C. S. R. R. Trustees? Less than a week ago, they sold to a Cincinnati Banking firm, three million of bonds at 100 13-100. That firm has now sold them for 103. The difference realized by the bankers in this case, would have built nearly the heaviest mile on the road.

The bitterest and most intolerant radical paper in the United States, is the Cincinnati Commercial. In commenting on the tilt between Blaine and Tucker, in Congress, this week, it intimates that the reconstructed Confederates only want another provocation to repeat the performances of the late war.

SILVER will soon go gongling through the country, and for a while we will be relieved of patching old ragged currency. The Secretary of the Treasury has been ordered to issue twelve million five hundred thousand dollars of it, to be paid out in lieu of fractional currency, and to redeem the torn up stuff we now have.

The magnificent sum of one hundred and sixty thousand dollars was collected at the meeting of Moody and Sankey, on Tuesday—one hundred thousand of it will go toward defraying the expenses of the revivalists, and the remainder to the Young Men's Christian Association, of New York.

The new Code of Practice of Kentucky, has reduced the number of days for filing suits in Court, to ten, instead of twenty, as heretofore in Equitable cases, unless the defendant lives outside of the county where the action is brought. Legal gentlemen express satisfaction at the change.

BABCOCK having been indicted for complicity in the Safe Burglary, Grant has begun to open his eyes in regard to him. He has just requested Secretary Bristow, to discharge twelve Clerks in the Treasury Department who obtained their positions through Bab's influence.

The Kentucky Press Convention will meet at Danville, on the 7th of June next. The editors of the Advocate, with the co-operation of the editors of papers in the adjoining counties, are making efforts to effect arrangements that will be highly beneficial to the fraternity.

JUDGE BALLARD of the United States Circuit Court, has ordered the sale of the Louisville, Paducah and South-Western Railroad. This road is greatly in debt, and has been for some time in the hands of a Receiver.

If either Breckinridge or Thompson gets the nomination for the Judgeship of the Court of Common Pleas somebody will be done up brown.—[Times & Kentuckian.]

Ex-GOVERNOR LESLIE, is descending the ladder of fame. He is now President of the Board of Trustees in a rural village.

His Stewardship. The latest version of Mr. Pickett's famous speech at Columbia, reported some time since, for the Louisville Commercial.

GENTLEMEN—I hardly know where to commence in giving an account of my stewardship. I will first speak of the general statutes, it is very imperfect. We tried to repeal the whisky law, but the lawyers were too strong for us; said that were all the way they had to make money. We came very near repealing the stuff outen Caintucky.

There is some complaint about us extending the session. You must remember that it taken us one week to organize, and then it taken us two weeks to elect a United States Senator, and that make one-third of the constitutional term of sixty days. And when the provision were made the population were only half what it is now, and of course we need twice as much legislation now as then. The finances were in a very good condition. The State is outen debt, and have $1,300,000. It's true we owe some money, but it ain't due till 1880. And we have more money in the treasury than we ought to have for when there is money there every one in Frankfort is a grabbin at it. If we hadn't extended the session we could have reduced the taxes 10 per cent. The Legislature passed the bill at 10 cents, but the Sinit defeated it and put it at five, and we concurred in it. The Librarian has had $30,000 to pass through his hands every year, and could account for $10 of the money. Everybody went there and jacked off all he wanted and there was no account taken of it. We need proper in our wisdom to investigate. We raised the jurisdiction of the magistrates to $100 and give them concurrent jurisdiction with the Circuit Court. The pleadians are to be great. You don't have to employ a lawyer, you can write out your claim and put it in and demand payment. We made grand larceny $10. The legislator put it at $20 but the Sinit reduced it to $10. Little petty larceny and minor offenses are under ten dollars, and he can be worked on the street or Work-house for whatever his offense is. We extended the Geological Survey. The State have paid out over $1,000,000 and got back nothing. We appropriated $44,000 to complete the survey, I was opposed to it, but the Sinit was to have for us. There were more intrust in the fish bill than anything else. I opposed it thinking it were not beneficial. No man can trap dip or mole for four years. We appropriated $3,000 to give sign and hatch 'em. It's a fine of five dollars and jail to violate the law. The Sinit appropriated $125,000 to clean out 'Caintuck river. We reduced it to $6,000. If it had stayed at the first sum, $1,000,000 would have been required, and our children wouldn't have seed the end of it. I tried to kill the bill by amendment asking for $1,000 to build a bridge over Green River at Nashville, but they killed my amendment, and we then taken it on a square vote and killed it. I kept a copy of all the bills passed, but I forgotten to bring them. I got two other bills put through—one from here prohibiting the sale of liquor. It was the most easiest bill to put through I had. This is what I got while I were there. I wouldn't suffer my county to go into the dog law. It were too severe.

A man were to be fined and jailed for failing to get his dog in—I put in a bill providing that each boy side housekeeper should be allowed one dog. If a hunter, 3 hounds, but no more. If he keep any more he was to be taxed, one dollar on the head and the money put into the jury fund and go one-half to the owner of the sheep killed by dogs.

I were in a bad fix. I had no Sinit to put in my bills. Mr. Huffaker were a nice man and a publican but whenever he would get up to put in a bill they would raise a pint of order on him and down he'd set. He couldn't stand before a pint of order. And now gentlemen we have a Sinit to elect, and we have two candidates, Dr. Hunter and R. S. McClure, and let me advise you, to elect no man, Democrat or Republican, who can't stand before a pint of order. We had the reputation of being the most sober set of men that ever went to the Legislature. We had only three regular drunkards in the Legislature—Capt. Magibon, Mr. Luttrell, and Mart Larue—but we managed 'em. I took my bitters regular, and the Librarian charged it to Stationary, but thank Jesus, I thought of Tomony in the Grange at home, and I never let it get down into my laigs.

Thankee gentlemen.

The Central Kentucky Medical Association.

The Central Kentucky Medical Association, met in Odd Fellows Hall, in Lancaster, Wednesday, 19th, at 10 o'clock, A. M., with the usual full attendance of members. After the Annual address by the retiring President, Dr. Dunlap—Dr. A. D. Price, the newly elected President, took the chair. The debate being called, Dr. J. L. Price, of Mercer, presented an exhaustive paper on Pericardial Fever, which was freely discussed. Dr. R. W. Dunlap, reported a case of Tetanus, Dr. J. G. Carpenter, reported a case of Naso-pharyngeal Catarrh, with exhibition of the patient; also a case of Mental Aberration. Dr. C. T. Spilman, presented a case of Disease of Leg, in which two amputations had to be performed at same sitting, on account of Arteriosclerosis affection of Arteries.

NEW INSTRUMENTS.—Dr. Smith, exhibited some Trocar and improved Springer, and Leibers (Berlin) improved Microscope. NEW BOOKS.—Dr. Smith, exhibited Water Analysis, by McDonald, and 4th volume Cyclopedia of Practical Medicine. Dr. Dunlap, Barker on Pericardial Disease; Physiology; Flint's S's. Phthisis, and Leibers new work on Obstetrics.

PATHOLOGICAL SPECIMENS.—Dr. Dunlap, exhibited specimens of diseased Kidney's, Uterus and Fetus. He also exhibited apparatus for applying cold to the head.

Dr. C. H. Spilman, Chairman Committee on resolutions relative to the death of the late Dr. J. D. Jackson, made a report. The resolutions were ordered to be published. The following Committees were appointed: Committee on Questions—Dr. McMurry, Harlan, Brannough, and Secretary Ex-Officio. Section on Materia Medica, Therapeutics, Hygiene and Chemistry—Dr. J. B. Lapeley, to report at July meeting, '76. Section on Midwifery, Gynecology and Diseases of Children—Dr. P. W. Logan, at Oct. meeting, '76. Section on Medicine, Physiology and Medical Pathology—Dr. H. Brown, at January meeting, '77. Section on Surgery, Anatomy and Surgical Pathology—Dr. McMurry, April meeting, '77.

BOARD OF CENSORS.—Dr. A. R. McKee, C. H. Spilman, J. S. Bailey, Wm. Huffman and H. Brown.

The following gentlemen were elected delegates to the American Medical Association—Dr. Brown, Price, McMurry and Smith. The subject for discussion at the Harrodsburg meeting in July next, is Valvular Disease of the Heart. Dr. S. P. Craig, of Stanford, to open the debate. The Association partook of an elegant dinner at the Lancaster Hotel, given by the profession of Lancaster. The thanks of the Association were tendered the Odd Fellows, for the use of their Hall, and to the profession at Lancaster, for their hospitality. The Association then adjourned, to meet in Harrodsburg, on the 31 Wednesday in July.

LINCOLN COUNTY NEWS.

North Side.

We have very little to write this week. We have had no stock sales, births, deaths, or marriages, since our last. John W. Logan, who was on our sick list last week, is out, looking after business affairs again; we learn that he was in your town on last Monday. W. F. McClary, we learn, is some better, though very sick yet; his wife is convalescent. Mr. E. H. Smith, whom we reported last week, as having been a victim of pneumonia, has been very greatly improved, having ascertained that pleurisy, and not pneumonia, had been the cause of his sufferings. Finley, son of Mr. A. Robinson, who has been suffering from pneumonia, is, as we are informed, improving, though very slowly. Helen, infant daughter of W. F. and Annie McClary, is very dangerously ill with Scarlet fever. Mrs. Yeskey, wife of John Yeskey, is now lying very low with Dropsy of the heart.

In accordance with previous appointment, the friends of the Sunday School cause, in this vicinity, met at White Oak School-House on last Sunday evening, at 3 o'clock. After singing by the choir, and prayer by J. M. Walter, Mr. L. S. Withers stated the object of the meeting; after which, on motion of Mr. G. Withers, J. M. Walter was called to the chair, whereupon the body proceeded to the election of officers, and the arrangement of classes. L. S. Withers, was elected Superintendent, and J. M. Walter, Assistant; W. F. McClary, was elected Secretary and Librarian. Four classes were arranged and supplied with teachers, there not being a full attendance, organization of other classes was deferred until the next meeting, which was set for 3 o'clock, P. M., of the first Sunday in May. The body then adjourned with benediction.

We made a visit to the School of Mr. T. Coward, at this place, on last Monday. Owing to sickness in the neighborhood, the school is not so full as usual, yet we were very agreeably entertained in listening to the recitations, especially those of the Geography and Grammar classes. The manner in which those recitations were conducted, showed that the pupils had been well trained. Certainly, Mr. Coward knows his business as a teacher, and we would say to all parents, send your children to him, he will do them justice.

Mr. Jas. H. Brock, of Garrard, is building a beautiful Veranda to the front of his magnificent dwelling, situated on the banks of Dix River, near the crossing of the Lancaster and Danville pike. Mr. John Yeager the contractor, is assisted by Messrs. W. T. and F. F. Stone, of the North Side.

We notice, occasionally, an interesting letter from your correspondent, "Casey," who, by the way, is an intimate friend and schoolmate of ours. His letters are always very new, but why not give it all; Dock, why don't you tell us what Sunday's in each month you have regular preaching at Roberts' Chapel, and by whom. Perhaps we might avail ourselves of a gospel feast with you, if we knew when to come, please post us.

We regret to learn that a little child of Mr. Stephen Owsley, of the Bright's Schoolhouse neighborhood, in this county, is suffering with Scarlet fever.

ELDER BALLOU, of your town, will preach at Rush Branch, next Sunday, at 11 o'clock, A. M.

NEAR TURNERSVILLE, April 17.

It has been some time since we numbered your columns, and now, we have nothing interesting of a local character, but would dedicate some of your many picaresque enthusiasts, with the good news that the land holders along Green River, are making observance of the late fish law a specialty, and promise of most delightful angling in that stream, at no distant day, is great. Wind and weather favoring, your correspondent and a friend equipped themselves with a good supply of minnows, etc., and dropped in on a Green River friend on a prospecting expedition. We enjoyed one day's excellent sport, and took a goodly number of beautiful Bass, and choice Goggle or Ring eyes—many more than we saw mill, we ever saw, informed us that last year, he saw as many as half a dozen scine in the water below his dam, at one time, and a wagon load of the choicest fish captured in a day. Seining was practiced to the almost utter depopulation of the waters about Liberty, but the determination to enforce the law, meets no opposition, and that stream will soon be an angler's paradise. All traps and nets have been removed.

We are sorry to learn that there are half a dozen traps still in Rockcastle, in the immediate vicinity of Livingston, from which large numbers of fine Bass, Salmon and Pike, are taken daily, and sold; and some of the trap owners declare direct vengeance against any one who will attempt the destruction of their traps and nets. Rockcastle is one of the finest streams for game fish, in Kentucky, and the Commissioners should take immediate steps to insure its protection against the bush-whacking now practiced in open violation of law.

Few farmers have begun corn planting, but all have a good ready for first season. Wheat was never more promising. We have thus far, escaped Scarlet fever, but our sister, Hustonville, is less fortunate.

Mount Saleen. We wonder if those young men who are so persistent in losing over the neighborhood couldn't do a good business at their calling, out West.

The recent F's have done considerable damage to our roads, and also to corn lands that were fresh broke.

TURKEY EGGS are in greater demand now, than we have ever known them. So far as we can learn, there is not as many as one turkey to every three families for miles round. This scarcity can be attributed to the cholera, which has been so destructive to poultry for the last few years. Will some good Samaritan send us a few dozen eggs at high prices, for hatching purposes?

CATTLE must be very scarce, and drovers few, in the lower counties, as but a small number of skeletons have been driven up this Spring. Purchasers are beginning to learn that there is more money in waiting till grass comes, than there is in rushing in a lot of winter-starved cow hides to cat up the scattering cheap provender that has been left over.

D. S. JONES claims to have as fine a herd of Short-horns as can be found in Lincoln county. He has given the breeding of such stock considerable attention for the last few years; and is still very much determined in that direction. He takes great pleasure in showing over his premises, and it would pay any one who likes to look at fine cattle, to give him a call.

From recent testimony, we are certainly convinced that the teachings of Christianity and the principles of Grangerism, are entirely antagonistic in point of practice. One of our best citizens here, for some time, been trying to live consistent with the teachings of the Spirit, in both callings; having a Bible that teaches him to pray, and an idol that gets the prayer. Feeling somewhat devotional, he went to his closet, we suppose, to pray, and while meditating upon the extravagance of using coal oil, and tallow candles, he decided to use a more economical light at once. Having secured a pine torch, he proceeded with his ceremony; but being too highly elated with his cheap light, he rushed from his retirement in great haste, leaving fire deposited unawares. Damages—one pair of Sunday suspenders burned in two, just above the buckle, and two of his wife's calico dresses. No insurance.

CLINT JENKINS was at Church Sunday. Surely, the Millennium cannot be far distant.
